

American Association of University Women

ADVOCACY

The Association's voice has long influenced legislative debate on critical social issues such as education, sex discrimination, civil rights, reproductive choice, affirmative action, Title IX, welfare reform, vocational education, pay equity, family and medical leave, and health care reform.

RESEARCH

An example of recent research shows that one year after college graduation, women are receiving less pay than men with similar backgrounds.

EDUCATION

AAUW supports women's educational and professional development through the national AAUW Educational Foundation fellowships and grants to women. The local Bloomington-Normal branch also participates in various educational efforts. Through the AAUW Legal Advocacy Fund, challenges are made to sex discrimination in colleges and universities.

WHO CAN JOIN?

If you hold an associate's or equivalent, bachelor's or higher degree from a regionally accredited college or university, you can join AAUW. If you join a branch you are also a member of the national organization.

If you are an undergraduate in a two- or four-year regionally accredited educational institution, you can join as a student affiliate of a branch. AAUW values and seeks a diverse membership. There shall be no barriers to full participation in this organization on the basis of gender, race, creed, age, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, or class.
